I am pleased to acknowledge the fine work that Curtis Furniture has produced for the Bonnington Hotel. We recently changed the hotels headboards and side tables throughout 216 bedrooms. The results have been worth it with many of our regular guests giving positive feedback.

The workmanship, joinery and finishing has stood up to the rigours of hotels guests and daily maid service. Curtis was able to advise the best design and construction methods in order for long lasting trouble free goods. Custom design allowed us to maximize unusual spaces and match existing wood finishes and tones.

Given that the company is located in British based any changes to the program or designs could be altered with relatively little consequence. Shipping times were greatly reduced and any additional necessary pieces could be sent quickly.

I look forward to the current order we have placed and to working together again on future projects.

Kind regards,

Garrett Swain
